Texas Lays It on!

Father Robert Weiss, S.J., RDVA Chaplain, and Father Gerard Philip Erb, SDV, presided at the Annual Memorial Service during the Reunion. Father Erb was celebrating his 50th year in the ministry. During his rather light-hearted discussion of his times in Ghana, he once turned to Father Weiss and asked, "I don't have to be too pious, do I?"

It was hot! But not all THAT hot. From a reported high of 95° on Monday, July 11th, the first day of the Rainbow Reunion, the temperatures tapered down throughout the Reunion, abetted by late night showers, and no one reported suffering from the heat as many from cooler climes feared they would. However, the two ample swimming pools on the hotel grounds got a good workout that often continued into the wee sma' hours, and some of those who have made a practice of breaking into closed pools after hours at previous Reunions were unhappy that no one chased them out of the pool at two o'clock in the morning.

It was cold! The management of the North Park Inn evidently wanted the folks to keep their cool and set thermostats at 52° throughout the Inn and Convention Center. Repeated appeals to move the thermostats up to 70° had no effect, but the frigid clime brought forth no end of corny jokes, such as: "When I went to my room last night, I found two Eskimos trying to keep warm." "Got up this morning and found three inches of snow on the floor—with polar bear tracks in it." "My last bottle of Mountain Dew was frozen solid this morning." And of course, more that won't bear repeating. It is a fact, however, that at the Luncheon and Banquet, the ladies grabbed the tablecloths as soon as the waiters cleared the dishes away and wrapped them around their shoulders, giving a uniform gold decor to the entire room.

It was busy! But not all THAT busy. President "Rube" Evanoff ran the business meetings with aplomb and dispatch, starting almost on time when he could get people to take seats, and ending on time—or before. All the business that was planned for a hearing was heard and acted upon, and many items of importance were settled (see the following pages for reports of actions taken.)

It was relaxed! With business meetings held to the minimum, there was lots of time for unit meetings, breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, tours, bull sessions, swimming in the two hotel pools and just plain goofing off. It was a very relaxed Reunion without too many demands on the time of those participating. Great!

President's Message

President Philip F. Trout

I am still in seventh Heaven, because of being elected President of the Rainbow Division Veterans Association. Now I must settle down and do the job members expect of me.

After leaving Dallas, Blanche and I took Peg Keating home to San Antonio. On the way we stopped at Temple, Texas, to seek a World War II buddy of mine, Gaylord Mullin. He was my sergeant and commander of the point jeep of the 2nd Platoon, 42nd Recon Troop. I was his driver during combat. We found him at home, and met his wife as well. After reminiscing about World War II, I signed him up as an RDVA member, and Blanche signed his wife as a Ladies Auxiliary member.

I am determined to appoint all Vice Presidents as Membership Chairmen. Each will govern his territory. The important cog in membership is the Chapter Secretaries. Directions will be forwarded through a chain of command.

The speech of General Taylor at our Memorial Luncheon was inspirational. I will follow his goal, Freedom for free men, and strength of government with a strong Armed Force to keep our freedom.

The Reunion at Dallas was a huge success, thanks to Clovis Brakebill and his Committee. Now, I shall seek a place for our Mid Year Meeting. Perhaps some good Rainbow buddy will offer his city and services. You all know that Blanche and I will be Reunion Chairmen for 1985 at West Palm Beach, Florida.

Let's all be Rainbow Chasers for 1983 and 1984, and come to Windsor, Canada, with an increase in membership.

Until the next REVEILLE, God Bless all of you, and Blanche and I thank all Rainbow people for their kindness at Dallas.

Reunion Report

Five hundred and sixty Rainbow faithful trekked to Dallas for the 1983 Rainbow Reunion and found more than adequate facilities ready for them. True, the noble plan of billeting units together didn't quite work out in the final rush to get folks into rooms. But then, it has never worked yet when people don't get their reservations in early.

Everyone was in a huge campus-like facility exactly as shown in the May, 1983, REVEILLE, with two swimming pools, a grand ballroom where the business meetings were held, and a Convention Center with more meeting rooms than were needed by Rainbow.

It would be difficult to imagine a more perfect motel-convention arrangement than we had at Dallas. The large Convention Center sits inside the circle of motel buildings, and contains a large conference hall, a spacious entry-lobby and wide hallways. The buildings and grounds were beautifully maintained and groomed, and offered pool-side lunches under canopies, which relieved the crowded dining room considerably. The Reunion Committee did a fine job of getting everyone taken care of with badges, tickets and Reunion packets.

Altogether, a very well-run operation and a very enjoyable Rainbow Reunion.

Meetings Were Short

The Executive Committee Meeting on Tuesday morning, and the three general meetings on Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday morning and Thursday afternoon were short and well-controlled by President Evanoff. The Executive Committee Meeting lasted only an hour and a half, and the roll call by Secretary Peg Keating found nineteen officers in attendance, along with fifteen state committeemen, ten unit committeemen and twelve members at large. The Secretary reported a final membership count for the year of 2,655, a loss of 124 members from last year.

The Treasurer's report, 1983-84 Executive Committeemen, Memorials Foundation officers, 1983-84 budget and Living PNP's may be found on page 6.

The three business meetings consumed a total of five and one-half hours, and all scheduled business was settled to the satisfaction of most in attendance. For the most part, the meetings were occupied in hearing reports and making such decisions as were required, but there were some few reports that raised arguments.

Planning Task Force

J. Wm. "Bill" Keithan, Chairman of the Long Range Planning Task Force, presented a resume of his 54-page report, compiled from the information gleaned from lengthy questionnaires completed by about half of the officers and PNPs to

Prayer

Let Us Pray,

Heavenly Father, Lord of us all, each summer we renew our spirits at our annual Rainbow Reunion. We thank You for the joys of friendship which we shared during those days. We ask You to help those who were there to share them with those who could not attend. We thank You for all the hard work of our Reunion Committee, our Rainbow Officers, our Reveille Editor, all who made this such a splendid and enjoyable time. As we begin our new Rainbow Year, make us mindful of Your watchful care. Help us not to take for granted all the blessings we enjoy, our families and friends and our great country, this land of precious freedom, of rich resources, where we can live in peace and security and happiness. Let us not forget the heritage of fellowship and dedication that is ours in Rainbow. Help us to carry on this spirit of Rainbow, a spirit of hope and fidelity, a spirit of fellowship and love. Help us to contribute generously to this spirit by the way we live each moment of this year. In Your Son's name we pray. Amen.

—Rev. Robert F. Weiss, S.J., National Chaplain.

whom he had mailed them.

Foremost was the recommendation that a chain of succession to the Presidency be established, and that the Constitution and By-Laws be changed to permit the election of a President Elect to serve one year before assuming the Office of the President. Although the Rainbow Auxiliary has had this system for many years, as had the 222d Infantry Chapter and countless other organizations, there are those who howl every time a change - even for the better - is introduced. And howl they did when PNP Ted Johnson, Chairman of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee, introduced the change. However, a standing count showed the change to have passed by a fair margin.

The naming of a President Elect was delayed until the next National Reunion, because there was no time for the Nominations Committee to Act. Thus, next year, the Committee will nominate both a President and a President Elect. In future years, only the President Elect will be nominated, in that the President Elect for the previous year will automatically move into the President's chair.

Some of the other recommendations by the Task Force that hopefully will be acted upon by future Reunions included:

1. Institution of a Life Membership Program. Membership Chairman Dixon Rogers has been beating the drum for this many years, and President Evanoff directed the Treasurer to look into a dues schedule and report to the next Reunion.

Luncheon Speaker

Chaplain Robert P. Taylor
Maj. Gen. USAF-Ret

General Taylor is a native Texan who was commissioned and sent to the Philippines in 1940. He was a captain when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, and was in the Bataan Death March after Corregidor fell to the Japanese. A prisoner of war for three and one-half years, he served as chaplain to more than 10,000 wounded prisoners from 1941 to 1945. In 1944, General Taylor was placed in solitary confinement for fourteen weeks for smuggling food and medicine to injured American prisoners.

When he retired in 1966, he was Chief of Chaplains of the US Air Force. His decorations include the Silver Star, Distinguished Service Medal, Bronze Star and Presidential Citation w/20LC.

For his inspirational talk, General Taylor took his theme from the red, white and blue of our National Colors and likened each of those colors to elements of patriotism and duty to country. His message was warmly received by the packed room of Rainbowers.

2. Incorporate the Foundation's activities and funds into those of RDVA to aid and assist in perpetuating Rainbow.

3. Require that members must pay national dues only through a chapter of his choice.

4. Simplify the Executive Committee by limiting membership to appointed officers, the president and secretary of each chapter, and Past National Presidents.

Bring in the 42d NYNG?

In response to Keithan's questionnaire, there were as many answers to this question as there were responses. Some backed opening membership in RDVA to current and future members of the NYNG, without stopping to examine the consequences. First, our Constitution and name would have to be changed because those soldiers are not "veterans;" they are, according to a combat veteran and ranking noncom of the present 42nd Division, kids (boys and girls) off the streets of New York City more interested in avoiding a draft than in patriotic duty. There is a sprinkling of war-seasoned officers and noncoms in the NYNG who are certainly veterans, but not of Rainbow.

You haven't heard the end of this debate yet, and if someone can come up with a good solution, come forward with it. We really need your help.

"Ban Unit Chapters"

The results of Keithan's questionnaire were very revealing. For example, the distrust - if not outright animosity - toward unit chapters reared its ugly head in comments like: "Ban unit chapters; prohibit unit chapter meetings and their separate programs!" "Require that all members of a unit chapter must pay dues to a regional chapter." "I think some of the unit chapters are trying to control Rainbow."

While unit chapters are trying hard to increase membership, they still account for less than half of the total Rainbow membership. The continued growth of "mail order" unit chapters could be predicted with the influx of WW II members who are strewn from coast to coast and have little chance of attending a chapter meeting until the annual Reunion rolls around. This Editor, for instance, lives nearly 400 miles from the nearest area chapter, and the only chance for maintaining touch with fellow veterans are the chapter newsletter, the REVEILLE and the annual trip to the national reunion. There is room - and need - for both types of chapters.

1984 Rainbow Reunion

Leon Schenck, Chairman of the 1984 Rainbow Reunion that will be held in Windsor, Canada, presented a great deal of information concerning plans, and answered many questions from his audience. You will receive detailed information in each of the following Issues of REVEILLE, but here are a few items of interest:

The Hilton International Hotel is nearing completion and will host its' first convention in January, 1984. Rainbow will have 250 rooms in that hotel and 225 rooms in the Holiday Inn, one block away. Beginning in the next Issue of REVEILLE, you will be able to read the many details on how to make reservations, how to enter Canada from the US, what you can and can't bring into Canada, etc.

Memorials Committee

Chip Off the Block

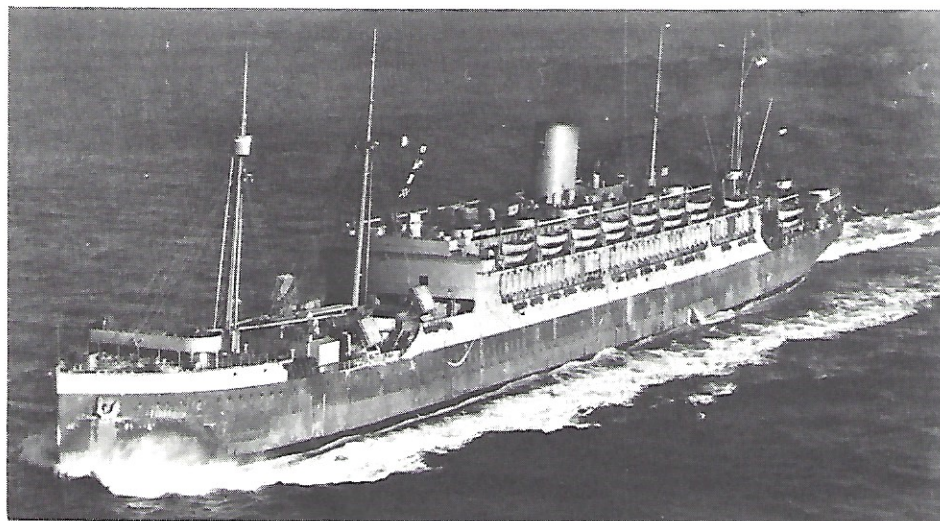

Among some twenty Rainbowers attending their first Rainbow Reunion was James A. Froede of Pasadena, CA. Jim was a Medic with Cannon Company, 232d Infantry World War II, and possibly not being sure of the reception he would meet at the Reunion, brought back-up troops in the form of his son, Staff Sergeant Richard Froede, who was recently named Soldier of the Year for the 5th Infantry Division, stationed at Fort Polk, LA.

A fine looking soldier (as we ALL were fifty years ago), he received a warm round of applause as he stepped to the microphone during the second business meeting and briefly expressed his pleasure in meeting his father's World War II buddies and friends.

for photographs and stories on Rainbow memorials, plaques, monuments, etc. The list is too long to give here, but each of you know if there is such a memorial in your area. Many have been written up with photographs in the REVEILLE with the help of local members, but many are still missing. To list a few: Mortimer H. Jordan Monument, Birmingham, AL; The Rainbow Memorial Grove, Los Angeles, CA; MacArthur Park, Little Rock, MacArthur Statue, Los Angeles; and graves of Gen. Matthew Tinley, Iowa; Col. Bennett, Iowa; Col. George Leach; Father Duffy, New York; and Wilbrucker and Leland Whitney, Arlington, VA. If you live in the vicinity of any of those listed, take some photos and send them to Bill Barton with a story of the site.

"The America" — "The Alexander"

Under the name "USS America," this ship carried the 168th Infantry Regiment to Europe during World War I, and recommissioned as the "Edmund B. Alexander," carried the 222nd Infantry Regiment and Headquarters, Task Force Linden, to Europe in World War II. See page 5, November 1980 REVEILLE for history.

If you're interested in obtaining an 8x10 print of the above photo, you may obtain your copy by sending $3.00 to William E. Clayton, 819 Piedmont Way, Redwood City, CA 94062.

Bill also took photos of each of the three infantry regiments attending the Dallas Reunion, posed around the Rainbow flower bed on the hotel grounds. You may obtain your copy by sending $3.00 to him at the above address and specifying which regiment you wish. All proceeds will be split among the regiments and the Memorial Foundation.

Nor Cal Clambake

The First Annual Northern California Rainbow Clambake and Surfing Splash will be held at the beautiful Dream Inn on the Beach at Santa Cruz, CA, on 18-20 November, 1983, at off-season room rates.

Since the demise of the San Francisco Rainbow Chapter, absolutely nothing has been happening in Northern California, and Bill Clayton and your Editor have decided it's about time something did.

The program has been planned in detail to include no business meetings, no nominations, no officers, but plenty of time for get-togethers and playing on the magnificent Santa Cruz Boardwalk which is within walking distance, and where all the rides, including "The Mouse" and the famed roller-coaster (if you dare) will be in full swing that weekend.

Bill has scheduled an Early Bird Party for Friday evening and a dinner on Saturday evening, both at the Dream Inn, and for other meals, dining is great at the Dream Inn or at various restaurants on Fishermans Wharf, which is also in walking distance.

It is intended simply as a weekend for relaxing and enjoying each others company or doing whatever makes you sleep well, so if you're within driving or walking distance (the airlines haven't found Santa Cruz yet), write Bill Clayton, 819 Piedmont Way, Redwood City, CA 94062, for details.

But hurry! It's only two months away!

Gen. Robert T. Gill

by Thomas C. Price

The young "soldier," smartly decked out in his WWI khakis, marched into the dining room of the Broadview Hotel in Baltimore. The staff looked at his outfit in some surprise, but to the occupants of the dining room, every item of the young man's clothing seemed familiar.

The date was June 23, 1983, and the occasion was the semi-annual reunion lunch of the 117th Trench Mortar Battery of the Rainbow (42nd) Division. Those present included four WWI veterans of the 117th: Tom Price, James Cassidy, Joseph Isaac and Courtney Brown, plus wives and widows of other veterans, and friends.

This meeting of the Rainbow veterans had a more serious tone than usual because the 117th was mourning the loss of its Commanding Officer, General Robert J. Gill, who died on June 22 at the age of 94 after a long illness. As a young captain in 1917, Robert Gill led the 117th through its training and during active service in France until he was attached to the general staff of General Douglas MacArthur near the end of the war. He went on to have a long and distinguished career in both military and civilian life, and his former comrades remembered him with pride as well as affection.

This luncheon was also memorable because of the presence of the young "soldier" in uniform. He was Frederick Maisel, who teaches history at Boy's Latin School, but who also indulges a passionate interest in the Great War by giving demonstrations and lectures for schools and other groups.

From relatives who served in WWI and other sources, Mr. Maisel has collected an impressive amount of information and also many artifacts of the period. His uniform was correct in every detail, from his overseas cap and his iron derby to his fully equipped back pack, ammunition belt, gas mask, first aid kit and Springfield Rifle. The only things missing was the patina of mud characteristic of the uniform of the field, and the hobnails in his boots, which, Mr. Maisel explained, he had finally removed after several complaints of damaged floors after previous demonstrations. The uniform was also missing its resident community of ever-hungry cooties: Mr. Maisel's passion for authenticity did not—praise be—go that far!

Every detail of the uniform was of course familiar to the veterans present. Mr. Maisel did not have to tell them about the itchiness of military wool or the complications of trying to tie puttees, but the demonstration brought back many memories.

The loss of General Gill was a sad reminder to the veterans of time passing.

Rainbow Resolution

Past National President Howard Smith introduced the following Resolution, which was passed unanimously on the first reading:

Assembled in Reunion at Dallas, Texas, 11-14 July, 1983, We the Veterans of the 42nd Infantry "Rainbow" Division of World War I and World War II, join in petition to the United States Senate and the United States House of Representatives.

WHEREAS, Soviet leaders have demonstrated an intent to impose their ideology and control on any nation, such as Afghanistan, Poland and Angola, where they saw they could do so without effective retaliation; and

WHEREAS, Until recently, there has been a serious decline in the military capabilities of the United States while the Soviets have been greatly expanding their arms capabilities in all areas far beyond legitimate defense needs, and now surpass the United States in both strategic and conventional forces; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union has failed to adhere to peace and other agreements entered into with the US regarding limitations on strategic weapons; and

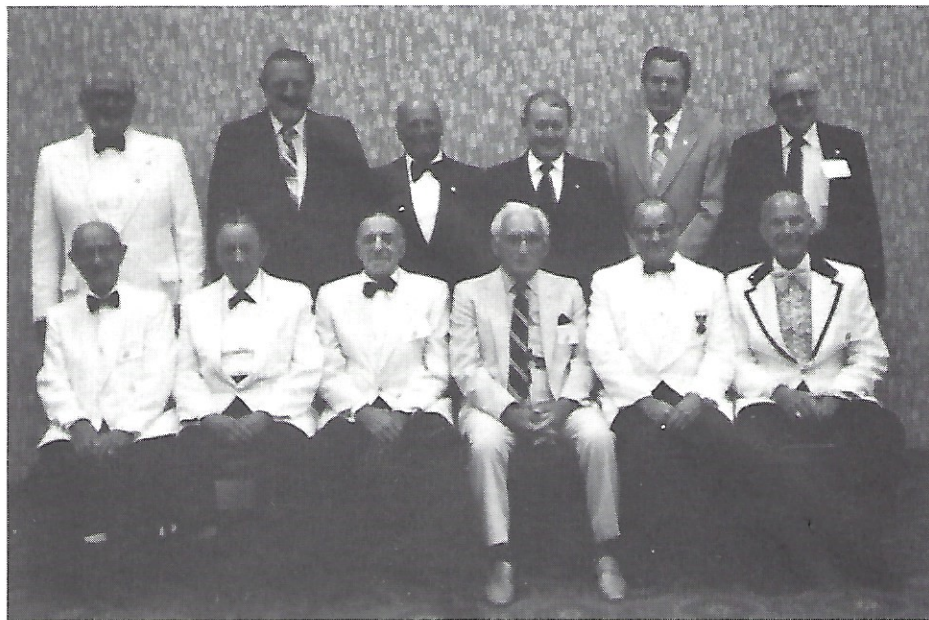

WHEREAS, We are dealing with a nation that has demonstrated a failure to adhere consistently to treaties and agreements which support world peace; and

WHEREAS, The Soviet Union has not hesitated to take aggressive action of many kinds, including subversion, against the interests of the United States and its allies; now therefore be it resolved that:

For the United States to negotiate effectively, it is essential to be in a position of strength as opposed to weakness. We, the members of the 42nd Infantry "Rainbow" Division Veterans Association, urge each member of the United States Congress to fully support the goals and aims of the President to rebuild the United States military strength in order to counter the Soviet Union's arms buildup and to protect the security of the United States and its citizens.

As combat veterans of two wars, we recognize the fallacy of "second best," as was our position at the beginning of both World War I and World War II. We must never again permit this nation to descend to such a position. Military preparedness that results in a credible military strength for this nation is our surest road to Peace.

Armistice Day, 1983

On Friday, 11 November, the Mo-Kan Chapter will hold a Memorial Service and Reunion at Rockhurst College, 5225 S. Troost, Kansas City, MO. Those attending are asked to meet in the Student Union of the College at 1030 hours so we can proceed to the Chapel for the traditional moment of silence at 1100 hours. The Memorial Service will be conducted by Father Robert Weiss, S.J., RDVA Chaplain and President of Rockhurst College, assisted by members of the Mo-Kan Chapter and Rockhurst College students.

Following the Service, there will be a dinner for all Rainbowers at the College. The anticipated price is about $7.50.

Those who desire can arrive on 10 November. There will be rooms available at the Best Western Motel in Lees Summit, Missouri, and for those who arrive early, there will be the traditional Early Bird Party. Reservations for rooms may be made through George Rhodes, 1009 W. Maple, Lees Summit, MO 64063, TEL 816-524-2388.

All Rainbowers are invited and urged to attend this Service. We of the Mo-Kan Chapter believe this is the oldest purely Rainbow Service still going on.
